FOREWORD

Volume VIII of the Mississippi Cemetery and Bible Records series contains some of the most interesting and valuable records we have heretofore published. They represent a cross section of Mississippi families, the rich and prominent, the poor and humble.

We have probably had more requests for the cemetery at Wesson, Mississippi than for any other and it is given in its entirety in this volume. Another old and very large burial ground is the Wintergreen in Port Gibson, Mississippi. This cemetery is so large that it will necessarily have to be published in four parts, in succeeding volumes.

The Genealogical Records Committee acknowledges, with gratitude, the splendid work done on the index of Volume VIII by Miss Christine Berry.

Neither the Mississippi Genealogical Society, nor the Genealogical Records Committee, assumes any responsibility for errors in material furnished us for publication.

Note: The fly leaf which would give the date the Bible was published and the name and address of the publisher is gone from the Bible. After the death of John Henry and Mary E. Hudson Barnett their son, Oscar Henry, acquired the Barnett homestead and the Family Bible has remained in the home. Oscar Henry Barnett recorded the births, marriages and deaths in his own family and the records of his brothers and sisters as long as he lived. His son, Bryan Barnett, lives in the old home and is the present custodian of the family records.

The descendants of John Henry and Mary E. Barnett have been outstanding citizens of Mississippi, probably the most prominent descendant being Robert Ross Barnett, son of John W. Barnett and Virginia Chadwick Barnett, who is the present Governor of the State of Mississippi (1961). Governor Barnett married Mary Pearl Crawford of Panola County, Mississippi, and Jackson, Mississippi, and they have three children: Ouida Barnett, wife of Ab Adkins of Homer, La.; Robert Ross Barnett, Jr., whose wife was Mary Lois Dickerson of Vicksburg, Mississippi; Virginia Ann Barnett, wife of Bobby Brannum of Greenwood, Mississippi, but now a resident of Jackson. Other outstanding Barnett descendants are to be found in the various professions. Rev. Tracey Barnett, Jr. is a Baptist minister; Miss Antonina Canzinari, a foreign missionary under the Baptist Board of Missions, and Rev. George A. Canzinari, a missionary to Brazil. In the medical profession have been Dr. A. J. Barnett, Dr. William O. Barnett, Dr. F. L. Brantley and Dr. William Messer. The legal profession is represented by Governor Barnett, his son, Ross R. Barnett, Jr. who is a member of his father's firm, Thomas J. Barnett, the late Arden Barnett and his son, James Arden Barnett, also with the Barnett, Montgomery, McClintock and Cunningham firm, the late A. M. Langston, Judge Oscar Hugh Barnett of the 8th Circuit Court District of Mississippi, and Carl Chadwick of Natchez.

Many members of this large family have served Mississippi in public office. Bert J. Barnett served Leake Co. as Chancery Clerk, represented that county in the State Senate and served one term as Mississippi's Auditor of Public Accounts; Thomas J. Barnett was County attorney for Leake Co. for two terms and served as District Attorney for the 8th Circuit Court for a number of years; Dr. Hudson Chadwick was State Veterinarian for a number of years and his son, Dr. Vernon Chadwick has held this office for several terms and is the present incumbent; Thomas N. Brooks is serving his third term in the Mississippi House of Representatives and is a member of the State Building Commission for 1960-1964; and Joe P. Barnett is currently the County Prosecuting Attorney for Leake County.

Among members of this family who have distingushed themselves in the teaching profession are Mrs. Nellie Barnett Brown, now retired from the Meridian, Mississippi, school system; Mrs. Eula Barnett Cummins, a teacher under the Bureau of Indian Affairs in Mississippi, Oklahoma and Arizona, and Dr. Bob Canzinari of the Mississippi College faculty.

Many members of this family have served with distinction in every war in which Mississippi has participated.

According to the 1860 Census of Leake Co., Mississippi both John Henry Barnett and Mary E. Hudson were natives of Georgia. Nine of their children were born in Alabama and three in Mississippi. An unusual feature of the following Bible record is a list of the slaves owned by John Henry Barnett, with their birthdates. See the Barnett Family Cemetery in this Volume for a marker to the grave of one of these slaves.

Note: This Bible was brought to Port Gibson by James S. Mason (b. 4/1/1818) who died there. His daughter, Lilly, loaned the Bible to a woman in Cincinnati, who refused to return it. A suit was brought against the woman (name not known) for the Bible but the woman died and her daughter (address not known) moved to New York. That ended it forever. Before the suit was brought, a copy of the Bible record was sent to the owner in Port Gibson by the Cincinnati woman. The Bible was not large, but was very thick and bound in leather. Extra pages had been inserted for the family record. The Masons, mentioned in the Bible, came from Milford, Delaware. Mark Manlove died in Maryland Feb. 24, 1665: married 1st, Hannah and 2nd, Elizabeth. He was the grandfather of William (b. 1718) and Mark, named in the Bible.

Note: The Pou family is of Spanish origin. Philip Pou is said to have fled to Scotland from Spain for political reasons, in the latter part of the 17th or early 18th century. A description of the Scottish Pou family Coat of Arms may be found in the Court of Lord Lyon, H.M., Register House, Edinburgh, Scotland. A copy of the Coat of Arms is in the Hispanic Museum in New York City, as are pictures of several famous early Spanish Pou's.

Philip Pou married Lady Ursula Mureno, an Italian noble lady, related to the royal family of Italy. They had 3 sons (there were probably other children in the family), who came to American in 1740 and settled in Orangeburg District, S. C. They were George, David and Gavin Pou, who fled from Scotland because they had been active in the cause of Charles Edward, the Pretender.

Gavin Pou, son of Philip & Ursula M. Pou, married Margaret Mureno (probably his cousin) in Scotland. They had 8 children, all born in S.C. In Orangeburg District, S. C., Gavin Pou held many offices of public trust and honor. Ref: Salley's History of Orangeburg County, S. C. He was given land grants near Saluda, S. C. in 1750 and 1759. He died May 5, 1775 in Orangeburg Dist., S.C. His will, dated Dec. 16, 1773, proven May 10, 1775, is on file in the office of Secretary of State, Charleston, S. C.

Martha Jean Pou, daughter of Wendell Morse and Eloise Cran Pou, a descendant of Gavin and Margaret Mureno Pou, married Robert Gene Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Moore.

There are many Pou descendants in America today. Many of them are doctors, ministers and leaders in the cities where they live.

STATE OF MISSISSIPPI)
COUNTY OF OKTIBBEHA)

Personally appeared before me, an officer of the law in and for said county and state, one CYRIL E. CAIN, who being duly sworn by me made the following statements:

1st. That the births and marriages hereby transcribed were taken from a Bible record sheet detached from a missing Bible evidently having belonged to Wm. F. Cain since all entries were of him and his family.

2nd. That the date of publication of this Bible was prior to 1862 for the following reasons: The marriage record of Wm. F. Cain and N. L. Gibson is in the handwriting of Wm. F. Cain as evidenced by comparison with his signature to a legal document in 1841 on file in York, South Carolina; and by the fact that Wm. F. Cain died in the Confederate Army in 1862.

3rd. The deponent further states that the names and dates of births and marriages are hereby given as on the Bible record, and,

4th. That the sheet showing these births and marriages is the property of Robert M. Havens, Rt. 1, Ocean Springs, the said Robert M. Havens being a grandson of Wm. F. Cain.

1st. That the Bible record reproduced below was taken from a very old Bible then in the possession of John C. Wilson, then eighty years old but now deceased, and that the remaining sheets usually found as part of a family record in a Bible were torn out and not found.

2nd. That the back of this Bible was gone and there was no way to tell when it was published, when it was bought or by whom.

3rd. That the above named John C. Wilson told the affiant that it was the property of his father, Sebern Wilson, who was born in 1833 and died in 1918, according to his tombstone inscription, and that it had been kept by the said Sebern Wilson until his death and then kept by other members of the family.

Laura S. Wilson, born May 21, 1881.
Aquilla Wilson, born Sept. 19, 1883.

Note: The following information was taken verbatim from this old Bible, all information was recorded in various handwriting, all now dark brown ink stain. The paper is brown and deteriorating, but still clearly legible, except for a few places (these appear as blanks in the following copied record). All pertinent information, however, appears quite clearly.

My personal estimate of the writing is that all of it was recorded more than 75 years ago. Joe Jack Hurst

This Hurst family came from England before April 13, 1651 and settled in Northumberland County, Virginia. A history of the family was written by the late Mrs. Jennie Hurst Harding Cornelius of Heatherville, Virginia. Note: The Potts cemetery, in the southwestern part of Benton County, is abandoned now and will be completely lost some day. Yet, Erasmus Potts, one of the most prosperous planters and developers in that area and founder of Potts Camp, a town just across the line in Marshall County, is buried there.

Evidence of many other graves is present but this is a complete listing of the stones in the cemetery. I can remember the last burial there and know that all stones present in 1937 are still there. Some are in very bad shape, however, and will not last much longer. - R. F. Wicker, Jr.

SHARON CEMETERY

Cemetery - Old Sharon
Location - Attala County, Mississippi, about 3 miles west of McCool, on property now owned by Mr. Hal Cook, just south of what is called the Rockport Road.

Note: At one time, approximately 100 years ago, there stood a church known as Old Sharon Presbyterian, north of this cemetery, several hundred yards.

Some of the early settlers of this community - the Hubberts - settled the land where the church and cemetery are. They are buried here, also. At the present time, their great, great niece owns the land, though it has not always been in the family possession.

All of the tombstones in the cemetery are in fair condition.

Note: the progenitor of the Heidelberg family in Mississippi was Christian Heidelberg who lived in Edenton, Albemarle County and Onslow County, N. C. during the early part of the 18th century.

Samuel Christian Heidelberg, great grandson of Christian, migrated to Mississippi from Twiggs County, Georgia about 1817 with his father, Thomas Christian Heidelberg; his two brothers, Thomas Christian, Jr. and John Christian, and three sisters, Harriet, Catherine and Alletha. He married 1st, Martha Granberry, by whom he had 15 children. At her death he married Mary Morris, by whom he had 6 children. Five of his sons served in the Confederate Army; two of these, George Christian and Luther, were killed in battle.

Alletha, sister of Samuel, married Rev. James Terral. Their son, Samuel Heidelberg Terral, was a Supreme Court Judge of the State of Mississippi and was one of the signers of the Ordinance of Secession.

Thomas Milton Heidelberg, son of Samuel, married Theodosia Goodwin, daughter of Charles Fletcher and Frances Elizabeth Caraway Goodwin, and granddaughter of Edwin S. Caraway. See Edwin S. Caraway Bible, this Volume, pp. 47-48.

This cemetery is located at the site of the home of Samuel Christian Heidelberg, which burned to the ground during his lifetime. The cemetery is well kept and is enclosed by an iron fence. Ref: N. C. Colonial and State Papers, Vols. 2, 4 and 25: (2) D. W. Heidelberg's "Family Record of Heidelbergs and Granberrys."

Copied by - Mrs. Ed Simmons & Mrs. Burl O'Quin, granddaughter of Mary Ann Sandifer & Mrs. Doris Green, great granddaughter.

Note: This cemetery is fenced and is in good condition. The graves marked "*" have headstones alike, and they are reported to have been placed there by Mary Ann Sandifer Lee, wife of Francis Marion Lee (b. 1832) the Confederate soldier. Up to the time of her death in 1925, she had this cemetery cared for. She is buried in Magnolia, Mississippi. by her youngest son, Joseph E. Lee. Some of the early dates appear to be approximate ones, but she wanted to leave for future generations a record of her family, and knowing her as we did, the death dates will not be far off.

WESSON CEMETERY

Location - Copiah County, Mississippi, in the extreme southern part of the county.

Note: In 1865, Col. James Madison Wesson moved from Choctaw County, Mississippi to Copiah Co., Mississippi. In 1866, when the town of Wesson was incorporated, it was named in his honor.

In 1870, when Lincoln County was formed from Copiah, Franklin and Lawrence counties, Col. Wesson, an ardent prohibitionist, had the town lines drawn so as to throw the town of Wesson in Copiah because that county did not license saloons.

Lowry and McCardle in their History of Mississippi (1893): "In 1865, just after the surrender, Col. J. M. Wesson established a cotton mill on the line of the New Orleans, Jackson, and Great Northern Railroad. It was established just after the war and shows the energy of its founder and the determination of the people to again build up the State. In 1873, a fire destroyed the mills but they were promptly rebuilt and enlarged, and the cloth manufactured there is sold today in every large city in the Union." For many years Capt. William Oliver, a native of Georgia, was the manager of the Mississippi Cotton and Woolen Mills and his descendants, the children of Dr. Robert Wiley Rea and Rilla Oliver Rea, are among the most prominent residents of Wesson today.

Col. Wesson married Emily Reynolds and they were the parents of Laura, who married Henry Augustus Earns who owned and operated a large mercantile establishment in Wesson; James Madison Wesson, Jr. and Kate Wesson, who married Henry Bostwick of Marietta, Georgia, member of a prominent Georgia family. Emily Reynolds Wesson died of yellow fever in Jackson, Miss., in 1871 and she and the Colonel are both buried in Greenwood Cemetery in Jackson. (See gravestone inscriptions for the two at the end of this record.)

Address - Kosciusko, Attala County, Mississippi

Note: The Yokahockany church and cemetery are in use. They get their name (Indian) from a creek which rises in the northern part of Attala County and flows across that county and Leake county, into Pearl River in the southwestern part of the latter county.

The cemetery is fenced with a good cyclone fence across the front. The grounds are in fair condition. There does not appear to be a great number of unmarked graves and the stones, except where indicated, are in good condition.

EAST UNION CEMETERY

Cemetery - East Union
Location - Attala County, Mississippi. morth of Kosciusko, off of Highway 43.

Copied by - Mrs. E. C. Fenwick
Address - Kosciusko, Mississippi
Date copied - May 15, 1960.

Note: To reach this cemetery go up Highway #34, north from Kosciusko; 2 miles beyond the Houston Crosby place, take the good gravel road leading west (left) from the highway; go 1½ miles to a white frame house set far back from the main road; there, hidden in a grove of trees, northwest of the house, is the cemetery.

There are a great number of unmarked graves in this cemetery. It is overgrown with brush and even trees; the graves do not appear to have been made in rows or any kind of order. Many of the stones are in poor condition.

We understand the Sinclairs and Fulliloves were connected with the family of Mr. Cliff McWhorter, circuit clerk of Attala County, Miss. The Bells and Cagles are relatives of Mrs. Hoyt Miller of Kosciusko, Miss. The Biggs are relatives of Mrs. A. L. Young of Kosciusko; others of her family are buried in the old Stephens cemetery and in the Marvin Chapel cemetery. - Mrs. Fenwick.

PATTERSON CEMETERY

Cemetery - Patterson
Location - Attala County, Mississippi, 2 miles west of Center.
Date copied - April 7, 1959

Note: This cemetery is on a hill behind a negro house, on the south (left) side of the country road; it is necessary to inquire at Center, and then it is not easy to find. We had to leave the car at the house and a negro woman took us back through the woods to it.

The plot is enclosed in an iron fence and the gate is locked. It is completely overgrown with poison ivy and brambles.

At Center we were told that the Pattersons ran an Academy near Center; owned a large plantation and had many slaves. A large negro cemetery is on the other side of the plantation, up the road, where the Patterson and other negroes were buried.

There is a possibility of other graves here, but the plot enclosed by the iron fence would accommodate only one or two other graves.

Cemetery - Shields
Location - Attala County, Mississippi, southwest of the Center community.
Date copied - April 7, 1959.

Note: This cemetery is no longer in use; it is overgrown and has been used to pasture cattle - small trees have grown up all around. It is located on the property of Mr. Jones, who took us there. He said he found it by accident while hunting for a stray mule. To get to the cemetery, it was necessary to leave the car and walk across a pasture to a grove where it is located. There are 21 unmarked graves here, some are indicated by fieldstones.
